

Dear Parents and Pupils,

Another week has flown by!

On Monday, boarders had a great time delving into chemical reactions and looking at some of our favourites. Reacting a vitamin C tablet with water to test the effects of Carbon Dioxide produced and a good old combustion reaction of a hydrocarbon.

Dog bingo was played later that night, allowing us to introduce Slippers the Daschund, the boarding house dog. She is only eight weeks old, yet the boarders adore her to the moon and back. She plays and sleeps with the boarders during the duration of the evenings. The boarders have asked for a Slippers duty to be added to their job rota.

As you might see, this has numerous advantages, and it's wonderful to see how caring our pupils are.

On Tuesday, we made our own playdough. The pupils enjoyed watching it come together; choosing their own colours and even smell. Everything from lemon to chocolate mint was available! We then had a great time being creative with all of the playdough toys.

Craig, aka "the balloon man" from Twist and Make Balloons, came to our boarding house on Wednesday to show the pupils how to construct a variety of objects out of balloons. A 3-loop dog, a 10-loop dog, a hat with accessories, a sword, and a teddy bear were all successfully created. Pupils were engaged and picked up things very quickly. I wonder what they can create the following time.

Next Week's Activities
Monday	Karaoke Night & Council Meeting
Tuesday	Porcelain Coaster Decorating
Wednesday	Zuccis
Thursday	Swimming Pool Party!

We enjoyed the Zumba class on Thursday. It took them a little while to warm up, but once they did, they were singing loudly and dancing crazily. It was great to see everyone involved and it was brilliant. We're excited to provide this again with an additional of a new class called Body Combat!

Plans for the boarding house fundraiser are coming together, and you should have received an email from me with the details of the event. Along with the swim-athon, which is the main event, the pupils are planning a bake sale, guess the number competition, and raffle.

Please see the School Website Calendar for a list of upcoming events and book in via ssmith@st-hughs.lincs.sch.uk.

Have a good weekend.

Best Wishes,
Mrs Warwick-Smith
Boarding House Parent
